MILAM CO. BOARD OKAYS MARAK ANNEX TO CISD Fuchs Named Outstanding Lion

4-Yr. Old Girl Killed In City, Six Injured

The Milam County School Board has announced the approval to annex the Marak Common School District to the Cameron Independent School District.

County Supt. H. D. Maxwell said the County Board voted Monday at their regular meeting in favor of the annexation. The annexation will become effective Sept. 1, 1965.

Action by the County Board following a meeting of Marak School Trustees with the Cameron School Board. At that time the Cameron Board agreed to accept the annexation.

The annexation will involve 45 students from the Marak schools. At present transfer high school students are attending Yoe High School.

Serving on the County School Board are John Henderson Sr., chairman, B. B. McNulty, E. A. Perrin, Benny D. Williams and Paul Fuchs. Maxwell said Fuchs was not present and has submitted his resignation. Willie Glaser of Buckholts will succeed Fuchs on the Board.

Monroe Fuchs was named Outstanding Lion of the Year and presented an engraved bronze and walnut plaque at the annual Lions Club Ladies Night Banquet last week at the Texan Western Room.

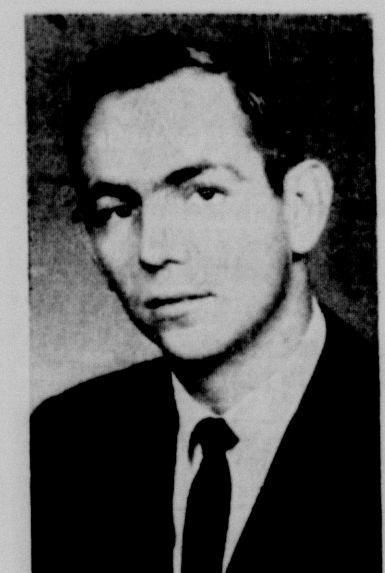

The award presentation, which was the first of its kind to be given a local Lion, climaxed the affair.

In making the award presentation, John Henderson Jr. cited Fuchs for his contributions to his church, the schools, city and many civic endeavors.

One of Fuchs' major contributions was his duties of directing activities in the Library general gifts drive which gave a big boost in helping to make the library drive a success. He also directed the Lions Club benefit baseball game for Little League, worked in many Chamber projects and is now vice president, is a Cameron Jaycee and presently serves as Lions Club president. He is also active in many other community functions and work at the Hope Lutheran Church in Buckholts.

The honor enables the nominee to go on to district where he will be among those reviewed for the District Lion of the Year award. Mental Health problems, conditions and improvements was the program for the evening. Judge Don Humble explained many facts of this county's mental health problems. He said that 37 counties

Lion Of The Year had been admitted in the Austin State Hospital from this county in the past 12 months. This is some 15 lower than in other years and the drop was credited to the building of rest homes.

Cameron had its first 1965 traffic fatality in a rash of accidents that occurred over the weekend. Three head-on collisions brought injuries to six and extensive vehicle damage while a fourth accident resulted in the death of a four year old Cameron child.

Loretta Jefferson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Jefferson, was struck Sunday as she darted onto US Hwy. 190 and 36 in West Cameron into the path of an oncoming vehicle. She died at a local hospital from injuries received about 45 minutes following the accident.

Highway Patrolman Derwood Kennedy, investigating officer, said the accident occurred at 5:45 p.m. Sunday. He reported the child dashed into the street in front of a vehicle driven by Curtis Ray Mathews, 22, of Cameron. She had just left Drapers Trading Post.

Kennedy said the vehicle was traveling east and went into a roadside skid, sliding into the west bound lane, in an effort to avoid hitting the child.

The young girl was taken to Newton Memorial Hospital by a Marek-Burns ambulance.

Kennedy said the fatality was the first for Cameron and the second for Milam County this year.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Progressive Baptist Church with burial in the Cameron cemetery.

She is also survived by two brothers, Curtis and Don Jefferson, both of Cameron.

MILANO COLLISION

Saturday at 11:45 a.m. a two car head-on collision three miles south of Milano on US 36 resulted in injuries to a five year old girl and her mother. Mrs. Roy Clanton is in Newton Memorial Hospital suffering from head and possible internal injuries and a daughter had been transferred to Scott and White Hospital in Temple. Investigating Officer Leroy Broadus said the girl suffered extensive injuries to her leg, her leg was broken in about four places.

The accident occurred when Roy Clanton Jr. of Milano attempted to dodge an oncoming vehicle driven by Henry Hollis of Houston. Broadus said Clanton crossed into the other lane as the Hollis vehicle swerved to the southbound lane. Clanton and a young son received only minor injuries.

MC CORDS INJURED

Mr. and Mrs. Bennie McCord of Cameron and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Morgan are all in St. Edward Hospital Wednesday being treated for injuries received in an accident 7:50 p.m. Sunday three miles west of Cameron on US 190.

Derwood Kennedy, investigating officer, said the accident occurred when McCord attempted to make a left turn off the highway. The Morgan vehicle, traveling east, was hit head-on while the McCord vehicle was hit at a right angle. The 1958 Studebaker driven by McCord was estimated to be totaled while the 1965 Plymouth received approximately $1,000 in damages.

USE OF SEAT BELTS

Highway Patrolman Kennedy credited the use of seat belts as being instrumental in avoiding injuries in a fourth accident Monday at 1 a.m. when two vehicles collided head-on 4 of a mile east of Branchville on US 190.

Kennedy said a station wagon driven by a Fort Hood soldier, Lee Otis Hays, went into the east-bound lane while making a curve. It struck an oncoming car driven by R. A. Fitzpatrick of Orange, Calif. Kennedy said one of the two Fitzpatrick children suffered only a minor hurt knee from the head-on impact.

He said both vehicles were traveling at a slow speed in heavy fog. Damage to the Fitzpatrick vehicle was estimated at $1,500 while the station wagon received about $500 in damages.

Community, Industrial Plans Outlined By Chamber

There are pageants; then there are pageants put on by more than 200 grade and junior high schoolers during the annual Yoe Campus Carnival Tuesday night.

The logistics of moving that many youngsters on and off stage on cue was difficult enough, but the story line told about Milam County prior to 1846 in understandable facts. Everybody knew his stuff.

We looked and looked for the pageant's director on the program, but failed to find Mary Belle Batte's name.

It started with the Spanish Missions of 1744 and finally came forward to 1846 and the drawing up of the lines of Cameron and farm property lines in the Milam County of former days.

This area's history dates 221 years back and its impact was apparent on hundreds of adult faces Tuesday night. We trust that the same spirit of adventure and ambition that carved old Milam from the Cen-Tex plain will thrust this tradition as spiritedly into the new challenges and uncertainties of this decade.

TALKING DOWN, NICELY — In a conversation with Dr. Ronald H. Hayward, Temple, heart surgeon and lecturer, following his discussion on heart ailment, we learned his most demanding problem in public lecture is how to "talk down" so the layman understands.

He did this nicely, and before his hour was up, had lightened this thick head with a presentation of heart technology and treatment easily understood and worth to a minute the listening.

Methodist Bishop, Friend Of Gandhi, To Speak In City

A bishop of the Methodist Church in India, a close associate of Indian leaders Gandhi and Nehru, will speak at Cameron's First Methodist Church following a supper open to the public 7 p.m. Wednesday, April 28.

Bishop J. Waskom Pickett, D.D., Ltd., of the Methodist Church in India and the U.S.A., will speak on Christianity in India at 7:45 p.m. April 28.

Rev. Richard Freeman, pastor of the Cameron First Methodist Church, reports the public is invited to the regular monthly church covered dish supper.

Author of two books, Bishop Pickett is a close associate of current Prime Minister Shastri, successor to Jawaharlal Nehru, first Indian prime minister and political aide to the martyred Gandhi.

Plans were projected toward community improvement and new industrial possibilities at the Chamber of Commerce directors meeting Monday setting the wheels in motion for a long-range development movement for the city.

Tentative plans for a community-wide meeting were set, industrial re-organization was approved, public relations courses scheduled, and downtown improvements viewed.

Work toward completion of the community development survey, made available through the Texas Power and Light's community development department, was also reported to be well underway.

Rev. Dick Freeman, chairman of the civic improvement committee, announced that the "Operation Check-up" (community survey) gives towns a complete study of their community through this self evaluation approach.

"Operation Check-up" reveals data concerning Public Facilities, Governmental Functions and Services, Streets and Thoroughfares, Educational Facilities, Community Beautification, Recreational Facilities, Public and Civic Activities, Economic Development and Community Service Facilities.

Through this survey Cameron will be able to compare itself in these fields with other communities in an effort for self improvement.

The questionnaires now being completed will be returned to the Texas Power and Light Company for scoring and tabulating, then returned to Cameron. A compilation of statistical results will be furnished and will show the importance attached to each question.

INDUSTRIAL FOUNDATION

CC President Forrest Sapp, reporting for the Industrial Committee in the absence of Chairman Narvie Caperton, stated that this committee was anxious to activate the Cameron Industrial Foundation.

John Henderson Jr., who aided in drawing up the present industrial foundation, outlined the present status of the foundation. He said in the beginning this organization was formed as a profit making organization, which at that time seemed to be in the best interest of the community. Since then, with more information acquired, he said it was obvious that this endeavor should be made a non-profit organization. It was noted that most towns of comparable size have the non-profit type organization.

Following a lengthy discussion, directors voted unanimously to abolish the existing foundation and create a new one on a non-profit basis. Officials said this would allow any money put into this fund by individuals or firms to be tax deductible.

Judge Don Humble and Henderson were asked to draw up the legal papers and are expected to present a progress report on the Industrial Foundation at the May meeting.

CITY-WIDE MEET

A committee composed of Monroe Fuchs, Porter Young, Lavert McKinney and Sapp were appointed to begin making contacts and tentative plans for a community-wide meeting. They hope to draw together city, county, school and chamber officials as well as the those residents who are interested in Cameron's growth in an effort to formulate plans for long-range community development.

PUBLIC RELATIONS

Education and Trade Development committees outlined plans for a Public Relations Course being made available to Cameron through the cooperation of these committees and presented by the Texas University Extension Department, Distributive Education.

The self-improvement course will be held May 3-6 at the National Guard Armory. The program is designed to help all businessmen and their employees carry on better public relations with their customers but will also be open to anyone who wishes to attend. Fee per person will be $3.00 which will be considered a business expense. More detailed information will be announced at a later date, CC officials said.

Directors voiced appreciation for the improved appearance made on First Street by the covering of the picture show building which burned a few years ago. This improvement was made by the owner of the building, Mrs. Ray Lester.

The possibility of a parking lot project in downtown Cameron was discussed by the directors who requested Sapp to investigate further and report his findings as soon as possible.

In other business the board adopted the proposed chamber budget of $12,475. The audit committee's report for the fiscal year ending February 1965 was also approved.

Ed Laywell, chairman of the Agricultural committee, reported that plans for a Hay-exhibit for the Town and Country Fair are being formed. The new project will give county farmers the opportunity to show their hay and have it analyzed. Laywell noted that this would be beneficial to the farmers in that they would then know the grade of hay they were growing.

New Trustees Take Oath Of Office, Officers Elected

Two new school board members were administered the oath of office and new officers were elected at the monthly school board meeting last Thursday.

Coleman Duncum and Will Vogel-sang were seated as new board members after receiving the oath of office. They succeed Niley Smith and Bob Wells.

C.R. "Roy" Law was elected president of the Cameron school board. Duncum was elected vice president and Forrest Sapp re-elected secretary.

Trustees canvassed the school board election returns before the new board took over their duties.

In other action the board selected Judge Don Humble consulting attorney for the next year.

The board accepted the resignation of Greer Condray and employed Theodoro Balboa to succeed him as school custodian. The resignation of Wendell Kirk, bus driver, was also accepted. Garlen Ingram was employed to succeed Kirk.

School Supt. Charles Zeigler announced the area school board workshop would be held at Texas A&M University on May 3.

The affair is scheduled for Friday, April 23, at the Methodist Fellowship Hall in Cameron and ladies as well as gentlemen are invited to attend. Tickets will go on sale on Wednesday of this week and interested citizens are requested to secure tickets early.

Congressman Bob Poage will be the principal speaker and an interesting program is arranged, according to the planning committee.

"Henry Ivey is a man of unusual initiative and drive and a special enthusiasm for Farmers Home Administration because of the service that it gives to our people and his special interest in helping rural people," Narvie Caperton said.

"As he quietly goes about his work," says Caperton, "few people are aware that during the short period of three years that he has served Milam and Burleson Counties, he has assisted approximately 1200 farm and rural families or 4000 individuals to improve their living conditions and farm operations through farm operating loans, rural housing and farm ownership loans.

County Agent Says Spray Plum, Peach Now For Best Crop

Home owners with Peach and Plum trees should spray their trees now and follow through on a spray schedule to prevent damage from insects and diseases, according to J. D. Moore, county agent. Moore said a simple, effective spray could include: for each gallon of water, two tablespoons of Toxaphene, three tablespoons of wettable sulphur and one teaspoon of Zinc sulphate. This spray may be purchased at most local stores ready mixed. "Greenlight Peach and Plum Spray" is one trade name. The material is a wettable powder as well as a liquid concentrate.

Moore suggested to spray now and repeat the spray application every 10 to 14 days until five applications have been made. Toxaphene prevents insect injury, wettable sulphur prevents brown rot and zinc sulphate furnishes iron for excellent leaf development. A luxuriant leaf growth adds to the vigor of a tree and is a must if the process of photosynthesis is given a chance to manufacture plant and fruit needs.

The Texas Guide for Controlling Insects and Diseases is available in the county agent's office.

BROWN SWISS PURCHASE

Brucellosis Test Progress Report Released Here

According to a report from Dr. Jim Sousares, 6902 cattle representing 309 herds were tested in Milam County by April 8. The infection rate is running about 2 percent, according to the report. Rains have slowed the progress of the testing program. Line-up men are badly needed in the communities to speed up the program.

This is a volunteer job and if the cattle are to be tested while conditions are favorable, more community line-up men are needed. Volunteers may contact the testing lab by calling OX 7-2631 or OX 7-3582.

Further emphasis has been given to the program by Dr. Ray Garrett who is working with local veterinarians. Dr. Garrett gave a program to high school Vo-Ag classes at Cameron April 14 at 10:30 a.m. Milano, 11:30 a.m.; Buckholts, 1:30 p.m.

The National Safety Council said that in dealing with farm chemicals, the Four Keys to Pesticide

Project Head Start Planned For Pre-School

ROGERS
The Rogers Consolidated Independent School District mailed application Monday, April 12, to the Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington, the Governor's office and the Texas Education Agency in Austin for Project Head Start for pre-school children in July and August, 1965, according to an announcement by Supt. B. F. Harbour. The School Board approved this project in their April meeting last week.

Harbour stated that parents of 35 five year olds have registered their children for Head Start With a minimum of 15 pupils per teacher, this enrollment insures a school of two teachers in July and August. Darwin Schwertner, elementary principal, will be staff director for the project. Pupils will attend school in the morning and the teachers will spend the remainder of the day in planning work and in contacting parents of the children. A light lunch will be served the children in mid-morning.

This project is part of the total desegregation plans of the School Board. Every child in the district who is eligible to attend the former all-Negro school at Burks Elementary School and the former School on High Street in 1965-66 in the first grade is eligible for this summer program.

The program is intended to improve the health and physical abilities of the children, develop the self-confidence and ability of the children to relate to each other, to increase their verbal and conceptual skills, involve their parents in activities with their children, provide appropriate social service for the family where needed. "The program will definitely not be the first grade in school, it will be pre-first grade," Supt. Harbour said.

Texas Farm Families Given 247 Loans For Improvements

L. J. Cappelman, state director of the Farmers Home Administration, announced that 247 loans to individual families have been made in Texas under the provisions of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, which is one of the powerful weapons of the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture being used in Pres. Johnson's all-out War on Poverty program.

These loans were made to individual farmers and rural residents in most sections of Texas. A farm family is a family who is operating a farm they own or lease, and is producing at least a portion of their subsistence from crops or livestock. A rural resident is classified as one living in a town of not more than 2,500 population.

Economic Opportunity Loans to farmers may be made to improve their farming operations; to buy more land, livestock, machinery and equipment; construct needed farm buildings; and to pay annual operating expenses for feed, seed, and fertilizer. These loans may be obtained by farm and rural families to finance rural-based, but non-agricultural enterprises. Funds may be used to purchase land, construct buildings, buy and install equipment and pay normal operating expenses of a variety of non-agricultural enterprises such as a farm machinery repair shop; TV and radio repair shop; ladders, spraying equipment and tools to be used by painters and carpenters; blacksmith shop; septic tank and sewage disposal system servicing; custom grass setting and land preparation; saw and lawn mower cutting equipment; portable sheep and goat shearing equipment; etc.

Economic Opportunity Loans are for the purpose of helping low-income rural families raise their income level. Rural families who need a small amount of capital to improve their incomes may borrow up to $2,500 for 15 years at 4% percent interest.

Cappelman also advises that Economic Opportunity Loans may be made to finance processing, marketing, purchasing and service type cooperatives which directly benefit low-income families living in rural areas. These loans may be scheduled for repayment over periods up to 30 years at an interest rate of 4% percent.

Additional information concerning this program may be obtained from county FHA personnel, county H.D. agents, Vo-Ag teachers, Soil Conservation Service and Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service representatives and other U.S. Dept. of Agriculture agencies as well as state agencies.

4 - H Club Notes

By Charles W. Henson
Asst. County Agri. Agent
"Don't overload circuits if you want to avoid blown fuses," caution 4-H Club members engaged in electric projects. They point out that the fuse box is the "heart" of the electric system and should be given proper care.

Never use a higher rated fuse than recommended or substitute something else which will keep the fuse from functioning properly, 4-H'ers warn. They regularly check electric circuits to guard against overloading - a frequent result from using more and more electrical equipment in the home and on the farm.

For 30 years the National 4-H Electric Program has sparked millions of boys and girls to undertake a wide variety of projects. After learning the fundamentals of electrical energy and its place in modern living, they engage in projects that range from simple jobs like repairing cords to servicing motors, appliance and assisting with wiring and lighting surveys.

In recent years electronic devices including robots, radios and hi-fi sets have been constructed by club members. Participation in the program has enriched their knowledge and given comfort to their families as well, club leaders report. The work is supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service. Sponsor of the program for the last three decades is the Westinghouse Electric Corporation. Members who complete the best projects receive recognition awards consisting of gold-filled medals, a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress and a chance to compete for six $500 educational scholarships. Local electric power suppliers also strongly support the program through recognition, technical assistance and teaching aids. Archie Goodman and Rex Bal-law are the local leaders instructing 4-H boys about electricity.

If you are between the ages of 9 to 19 and are interested in learning more about electricity, come to the meetings held in the extension office every third Thursday night of each month at 7 p.m.

Spray new Caparol after cotton is 6 inches high to control weeds.

Control most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses in cotton with new Caparol® herbicide. Simply apply as a directed spray to the base of your cotton when it is six inches or higher.

You'll get good knockdown of weeds and grasses that are less than two inches high... plus some killing action through the roots of later-germinating weeds.

The cost of this treatment, when Caparol is applied in a 10 inch band, can be as little as 85 cents per acre. Compare this with the $2-3 per acre it would cost you for hoe hands.

Later on in the season, you can go in and make a layby application of new Caparol to control weeds until the cotton is high enough to shade them out.

With new Caparol, you'll have no reason to worry about soil residue carryover to harm next year's spring-seeded crops.

Ask your supplier for new Caparol.

Shell Drilling Below 11,250' At Nell Ross Site

Shell Oil Company's deep Snackover wildcat, the No. 1 Nell Ross, was drilling below 11,250 feet on Monday, according to an oil field source.

The wildcat, located about four miles southwest of Gause, had made 85 feet of hole during the week; it was reported drilling at 10,400 feet on last Tuesday, April 6.

It is believed that the Ross may be near, or drilling in, the Cotton Valley. Shell's No. 1 Adoue Estate, which was drilled last year about a mile south of the Ross location, reportedly found the Cotton Valley around 11,500 feet. This cannot be confirmed, however, since Shell is releasing no information about the Snackover wildcat.

In western Milam County the Co-Kal Oil Company's No. 1 Gertrude Hargrove was reported drilling below 640 feet last week.

Community Planning . . .

The Cameron Chamber of Commerce is moving into the midst of civic improvement planning, where it belongs. It is starting with a comparison survey of the community through TP&L's "Operation Check Up", an objective analysis of the town, which when completed, will be measured against other comparable size towns.

And planning for long-range community development along with studying the needs of offstreet parking has been instituted by Chamber directors. Workers are contacting people throughout the community for a meeting.

The current community survey makes interesting reading. Many of the things itemized are already apparent in Cam-

Sounds Of The Far Away . . .

Moscow says totally new signals are being picked up from space, and not those coming from objects lofted by man.

Scientists at the Russian Sternberg Astronomical Institute believe the signals "may be the first evidence that we are not alone in the universe."

These are not the first signals from outer space untraceable to manmade missiles or flying objects.

That it might surprise us something with equal or superior ability to communicate is "out there" is a monument to one of man's colossal creations, his ego.

That the Soviets should claim first hearing on such sounds is tribute to their "political" science.

Anything as immense as this universe has to have other creatures at some stage of evolution. Some exceed our development, others not, according to the law of averages.

Budget Writers Deadline Near

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

Biggest job of the 59th Legislature - writing the $3,600,000,000 biennial budget for state government - was being quietly wrapped up in conference committee this week.

Conferees were playing a game of "beat-the-clock" to wind up before East holidays.

If they fail to make it, such important issues as teachers' pay raises and balancing tax measures would be postponed until dangerously late in the session.

Both Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and House Speaker Ben Barnes urged committee chairmen to turn on the speed.

Rep. Bill Healy of Paducah, chairman of the House group, doubted the task could be completed by April 15, previous deadline set by Barnes. But Healy said 15 solid hours of work would do the trick - if conferees can find the time between busy floor sessions.

Completing the 59th legislative meeting by the end-of-May cutoff time may depend on whether the conferees find that 15 hours for showdown decisions on vital money matters.

REDISTRICTING - Sub-committee chairmen of the House redistricting committee huddled this week to compare notes on how legislative and congressional districts should be carved up under court order.

Senate already has passed two versions of a plan to increase its membership from 31 to 39 to help the work along.

Indications are that the House plans to give big counties the minimum representation allowable. This to make the painful task of reapportionment as easy as possible on rural areas which must yield representation any way you look at it.

State lawmakers are hopeful congress soon will pass a bill authorizing a 15 per cent variation above and below the mathematical average population per district. Speaker Barnes, on advice of Texas congressmen, predicts U.S. Supreme Court would yield that far in its one-man-one-vote edict.

YOUTH CORPS PROJECT - First federal grant for a Neighborhood Youth Corps project in Texas has approval.

Gov. Connally announced clearance of all state preliminaries to grant of $135,570 from U.S. Labor Department for Corpus Christi Independent School District. Program will enable 673 youths from low-income families to stay in school. They will be employed on part-time basis at $1.00 an hour - or 83 cents, considering required hours of counseling and vocational guidance.

Wage is an exception from regulation requiring federal minimum wage to be paid on corps projects. Such exceptions, Connally noted, can be made on presentation of "convincing evidence."

COLLEGE LOANS APPROVED - State-financed college loan plan has final legislative authorization for submission to Texas voters.

If statewide election carries, an $85,000,000 bond program will be established, enabling students from junior college to graduate and medical school level to borrow needed funds to complete their higher education.

Rep. George Hinson of Mineola, author of the proposed constitutional amendment, estimates up to $32,000,000 will be borrowed in the next two years.

MENTAL FACILITIES - A bill calling for massive reshuffling of all state facilities and programs for mental health and retardation has been signed into law.

Legislation brings services under new Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation. It anticipates gradual shift in next decade from institutional care in state mental hospitals and special schools to "community care" in or near homes of patients.

Governor already has signed bill to place tuberculosis control and eradication facilities in State Health Department. These two bills in effect abolish the present Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools which has administered mental hospitals, special schools and tuberculosis hospitals.

WACO A-M UNIT ASKED - Gov. Connally called on the Legislature to authorize establishment of a vocational-technical training institute at Waco's Connally Air Force Base, to be administered by Texas A-M University. Base is scheduled for deactivation in 1966.

Bills to carry out Connally's request promptly were introduced by Rep. David Haines of Bryan and Sens. Murray Watson of Mar and Bill Moore of Bryan.

Governor asked appropriation of $1,100,000 to prepare base for first classes in September, 1966.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED - Carlos Cadena, a law professor and former city attorney of San Antonio, was named associate justice of the South Texas 4th Court of Civil Appeals by Gov. Connally.

Governor named Jimmie L. Mormon of Mesquite and reappointed Walter E. Wilkins of Corpus Christi as trustees of Texas Municipal Retirement System.

Robert Pesek and James Boska of Hallettsville were reappointed to board of directors of Lavaca County Flood Control District No. 3; and Donald C. Webb of Port Arthur was picked as a member of the pilot commissioners for the Sabine Bar, Pass and Tributaries.

Dr. Everett D. Wilson of Huntsville was appointed and Dr. Paul C. Witt of Abilene was reappointed to State Board of Examiners in Basic Sciences for six-year terms.

FLOOD CLEARS WEED - When flood gates broke at Corpus Christi, near Mathis, thousands of acre feet were lost and the lake level dropped drastically. However, not everything was damaging, says a Parks and Wildlife Department biologist.

Dropped level left high and dry thousands of hyacinths, which the department had been trying to eradicate for years. A nuisance to fishermen, the plants had been almost impossible to control.

MEXICAN GOV. VISITS Gov. Praxedes Balboa of the neighboring Mexican state of Tamaulipas (which borders on Texas from about Laredo to Brownsville) got a big reception on his visit to the capital last week.

He and Gov. Connally said they will ask federal officials to begin working on development of standard laws and regulations for Lake Falcon and the lake to be impounded by Armatad Dam upstream from Del Rio.

By having standard regulations, fishermen and sportsmen from either nation can use the facilities of the lake without worrying about violating the law when they inadvertently cross into waters of the other country.

Balboa said that, thanks to the cooperation from Texas and the U.S. government, the screwworm has been virtually eradicated in his state. He said the pest has been done away with in a zone 90 miles from the border, is being finished in the next 90 miles and the work is progressing satisfactorily in a third 90-mile zone.

"65" INSURANCE REOPENED Gov. Connally has declared April as Texas 65 Month in recognition of the third open enrollment period of Texas 65 Health Insurance Association, scheduled for April 15-30.

During these two weeks, all Texans 65 years old and over again are eligible to enroll in the health insurance program, regardless of age or health condition.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

LAW DAY USA

At a police station in Tennessee, an indignant schoolboy put this question to the officer on duty: "If the principal whips me at school, and then my mother whips me for the same thing when I get home, can she be arrested for double jeopardy?"

How does it happen that a mere schoolboy, still shaky in his grammar, is already on speaking terms with an ancient and technical rule of law?

How does it happen that poet Robert Frost defined freedom not as the lack of all restraint but as learning to "feel easy in your harness"?

How does it happen that thousands of prisoners in our jails are showing more interest in filing legal papers than in filing iron bars?

How does it happen that the power of our government has been handed over peacefully, from one administration to the next, for almost two centuries?

The answer is that the roots of law run very deep indeed in this land. And that is what Law Day USA, the first of May, is all about.

When Pres. Dwight D. Eisenhower proclaimed the first Law Day in 1958, he refrained from specifying any particular kind of ceremony. For this occasion glorifies no single event. It honors only a simple and momentous idea: that where law rules, men are free.

Thus, the observance takes many forms. There are quiz contests among school children about the Bill of Rights, and mock trials, and visits to the local courtroom. There are sermons and lodge meetings and TV shows with law as the theme. And judges add extra words of warmth as they swear aliens into citizenship.

There was method in choosing May 1 as the date for paying our homage to the rule of law. For that is the date on which millions behind the Iron Curtain are paying their homage to power. In the words of Pres. John F. Kennedy, Law Day is "the significant Day."

Whatever form that answer takes in your community, you will understand its message better in the observances across the nation. The rule of law has strength for the finest reason in the world: that so many free people believe in it. The 1965 Law Day theme is timely: "Uphold the Law - A Citizen's First Duty."

OUTDOOR TIPS

By Vern Sanford

Here's an experiment that will interest you duck hunters.

It's a project to determine the relative effectiveness of lead and iron-shot loads -- thus hoping to find a way to alleviate the lead poisoning losses of ducks.

For 30 days hunts and game biologists at Nilo Farms in Illinois took a long look at flying Mallards and iron-shot pellets.

Over a hundred ducks were shot during the experiment which was conducted as joint study by Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation and the Mississippi Flyway Council.

They point out, of course, that one way is to employ a shot pellet that is not poisonous to dabbling ducks that eat lead pellets lying on shallow marsh bottoms.

Any alloy of lead, it seems, is about as poisonous as pure lead itself. On the other hand, certain common heavy metals such as iron are not poisonous.

But how well will iron shoot? Not as well as lead.

Lead is dense, soft, and ballistically ideal. Iron is lighter and harder than lead. So iron pellets lose velocity rather rapidly and will score steel shotgun barrels.

But even so, there can be compensations.

Since iron is lighter than lead, it may be possible to reduce the volume of wadding in a shotshell and thus increase the quantity of shot to compensate for the decrease in pellet weight. The iron load would contain more pellets than a standard lead load, but would be of equivalent weight. Hence a duck may be hardhit with the lighter pellets simple because it is hit oftener.

It also may be possible to anneal iron to such a degree that it has little effect on shotgun barrels.

From the experiments so far, iron pellets appear to be surprisingly effective. Flying Mallards were shot each "test day" at widely varying ranges. The range of each shot was recorded, and the duck was later fluoroscoped. Kills with iron-shot ranged up to 40 yards. Ducks that were centered in the shot cloud were cleanly killed at all ranges. There were few cripples or ragged kills with iron-shot.

Until test data is analyzed by Flyway Council technicians, iron pellets really cannot be compared to the lead "control" pellets that were fired at the same time. But it did seem to these experimenting hunters that the bulk of the iron-shot Mallards were literally dead on the wing.

Bankers Ag. Committee Presents Position To V.P

The Agriculture Committee of the Independent Bankers Association in Washington, D. C. sessions Feb. 10-13 presented the following position paper to Vice Pres. Humphrey and discussed it with the President's Council of Economic Advisors. Pres. Lee M. Stenejem read the paper, as formal remarks, at a Congressional dinner session, Hotel Statler, Thursday night, Feb. 11.

Should the disaster of the thirties seem remote in these Soaring Sixties, remember that the lenthening shadow of the Great Depression went unnoticed as America danced its way through the Roaring Twenties.

Depressions have always had their beginning at a peak of prosperity, and they always are farm-led and farm-fed.

It is now apparent that the mistakes of the Twenties are being repeated. Commercial banks are loaned up to historically high levels in relation to available deposits. The easy money of the Sixties has made us a seemingly Affluent Society and we are now reaching for the Great Society.

But those who see a bright future for America apparently are not aware of a new shadow that has crept over the horizon. The most significant feature of the American economy today is this: rural banks cannot much longer continue to supply the credit needs of rural America. Since 1951, farmers have been using credit as a substitute for earned income because of depressed agricultural raw material prices.

With the inception of its agricultural research program 3½ years ago The Independent Bankers Association has warned repeatedly that such credit could not continue indefinitely. The Association has urged that action be taken to revive the economy of rural America before the point of no return was reached, but the downward drift has been allowed to continue.

The Association now finds it necessary to caution its member banks to be concerned with the quality of their loanable assets. Country bank loans to farmers are dangerously close to deterioration.

The IBA is not alone in its concern. At the recent convention of the American Bankers Association, the ABA urged a retreat from easy credit. In a convention resolution the ABA said "It is difficult to find justification for the degree of ease which now prevails in credit markets."

Insurance companies and large as well as small lenders are voicing the same caution. Similar experiences are being reported by the Production Credit Associations and by the Farmers Home Administration. It has been said that unless corrective action is taken soon, the FHA will one day be known as the graveyard for bankrupt farm loans.

In case after case, depreciation transfers are completely used up in paying operating expenses or providing food, clothing and other bare essentials for the farm family.

Rural bankers believe we have been building our economic future on a weak foundation. Our facade of prosperity has been achieved at the expense of the materials.

We have not constructed true economic wealth at all, but a will-o'-the-wisp prosperity in which some segments of the economy have been fattened by feeding upon another. Since the land represents the beginning point of our country's wealth, such prosperity can only be temporary. It will eventually fall of its own weight.

In the absence of adequate profits in agriculture, essential to reduction of ever-increasing debt, the time approaches when banks will have to terminate credit availability to thousands of farmers in rural America. This will force liquidation of numerous farm units and subsequently the destruction of thousands of rural businesses that serve farmers.

One result will be the loss of a market for an important portion of our total output of goods and services. This indicates a cutback in industrial production and an increase in unemployment. Whatever gains can be made through the Administration's anti-poverty program will be more than canceled out by the inability of the rural population to earn a living.

And remember - some 30 percent of the United States population lives in rural communities of 2,500 and under and on the farms surrounding them.

Because net farm income has declined while the income of other segments of the economy has soared to record levels, the farmer has been caught in a cost-price squeeze. The result has been a drop of more than three million in agricultural employment today. It is now contributing more to the poverty of the nation than any other single fact.

In the face of this, the prevailing economic philosophy calls for the elimination of 2½ million additional farmers. These would not just be the "little inefficient farmers." They would be a broad category of farmers - large and small alike.

We have apparently overlooked the most obvious answer to the unemployment problem. An expanded rural economy would slow down the out-migration of farmers. It would create an expanded rural labor force, both on the farm and in the rural communities. The largest pocket of poverty in America today is in the rural areas.

The farmer is in a state of economic depression because he is not getting a fair price for his production. That is, farm raw material prices are not in balance with the prices of other segments of the economy.

The situation has occurred not because important political and business interests have served to gain from maintaining farm raw material prices at depressed levels.

Out profit-starved rural economy has been dependent on massive doses of credit every year since 1953. This credit will one day have to be repaid. When we do this we will deprive the market in some future years of the income necessary to consume our annual production at a profitable price level.

The farmer has been using credit to keep his head above water. His borrowing always is in anticipation of future profits, but the sad fact remains that repayment often is made from liquidation of assets accumulated in prior years.

There is a limit to the amount of credit that is available in the United States. Expanded credit cannot much longer serve as a substitute for adequate earnings in agriculture.

Ten thousand banks collapsed between 1931 and 1934 because of the necessity for rural bankers to withdraw loanable funds from agriculture. The reason the bankers were compelled to collect farm loans at an accelerated pace was severe under-payment production.

To prevent a repetition of this catastrophe, we recommend that the federal government give the same attention to farm prices that it has given tax reduction and other priority measures.

If farm prices are restored to relative balance with the rest of the economy, we can achieve a huge bonus of output and income by making full use of all of our resources and raw material, human and financial. We can provide full employment, full plant and commerce retirement of the national debt.

(THE TULSA HERALD)

WATCH FOR STRANGE INSECTS

USDA is urging homeowners and farmers to keep a sharp eye for any unusual insect damage to crops, ornamentals or trees. Such damage should be reported at once to county agents or state or Federal entomologists. It could mean a new foreign pest has sneaked past our quarantine barriers, or that a native insect is building up to dangerous proportions. A Florida homeowner's curiosity about the larvae he found in a grapefruit triggered the successful campaign against the medfly in 1965.

TAKE YOUR PROBLEMS TO CHURCH THIS WEEK

Millions Leave Them There!

REMOVE MOUNTAINS?
IMPOSSIBLE! NOT AT ALL

About 2,000 years ago a man by His own life gave each and every one a perfect pattern for living, a blue print of the best and fullest life possible. Jesus Christ lived it and proved its practicability.

Once He stated that all any of us needed was a tiny bit of faith and we could remove mountains. Down through the centuries that followed, man considered this statement visionary and impossible of fulfillment. But someone with just a little faith came along and the power shovel resulted. With just the "practical" ones we would still be using the laborious hand shovel. Now faith has produced the splitting of the atom by which mountains can be moved.

To acquire even as much "mustard grain" of faith or power, you need but follow the plan that has been available to each and every human being. There is a church that will aid and enable you to understand the plan already provided and help you acquire the faith to live it.

SELF ANALYSIS QUIZ

Do You Know How To Be Popular?

By Jane Sherrod Singer

Experience has long shown that popularity has very little to do with a pretty or handsome face, a large bank account or fashionable clothing. In the experience of this writer, the most popular person she has ever known was about the size of a baby elephant, was lean on the material things of life, but had a personality that shone like the noonday sun at the equator. Here are some key questions to help you with your search for popularity...

	YES	NO
1. Do you have a ready smile?	()	()
2. Do you know and like many different types of people?	()	()
3. Do you often make sincere compliments to your friends and acquaintances... or even to strangers?	()	()
4. Can you honestly say you are friendly yourself?	()	()
5. Do you resent seeing your best friend or friends in the company of others?	()	()
6. Do you usually dress so that you will look older (or younger) than you really are?	()	()
7. Can you take disappointments with good humor?	()	()
8. In general, do you respect the opinions of people who are older than you?	()	()
9. Are you clean and well-groomed whenever possible?	()	()
10. Do you like to be the center of attraction most of the time?	()	()

ANSWERS: In ten high schools and colleges and in ten civic groups of young married adults, a poll was taken on the points of this quiz. The conclusion? To be popular, a person must honestly say YES to all questions EXCEPT 5, 6 and 10.

9 to 10 correct answers: Unless you have a great overwhelming flaw in your make-up, such as an uncontrollable temper, a sarcastic wit, or a deep prejudice, the chances are that your popularity rating is very high. You may never be elected to govern your nation, but you are a popular person.

5 to 8 correct answers: There is a certain group of people who admire you very much. If you want to extend your scope, improve on the missing points.

2 to 4 correct answers: No doubt you have a few staunch friends. Don't lose them through your errors.

0 to 1 correct answers: The British poet, Sir Edwin Arnold, can give you some help in his statement: "Use your gifts faithfully, and they shall be enlarged; practice what you know, and you shall attain to higher knowledge." 4-1-65

Zing into spring!
in a new Chevrolet

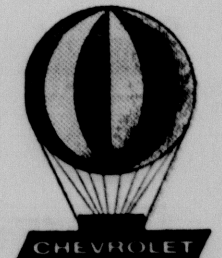

If you've been sitting tight waiting for just your kind of car, with just your kind of power, at just your kind of price—wait no longer!

Chevrolet. It's a bigger, more beautiful car this year. Which is why that handsome silhouette could be mistaken for cars costing a thousand—even two thousand—dollars more.

Chevy II. No car so trim has a right to be so thrifty. But thrifty it is, with money-savers like brakes that adjust themselves and a long-lived exhaust system.

Chevelle. This one's got lively looks, spirited power, a softer ride—and remarkable room atop a highly maneuverable wheelbase. No wonder it's today's favorite mid-size car.

Corvair. Ask any '65 Corvair owner how it feels to drive a car with such easy steering, tenacious traction and responsive rear-engine power. And be ready to do lots of listening.
